Notes about translation of this site

==> I have written the original contents (pages and files) of this website in Japanese.

==> I have already manually translated some contents of this site (particularly the contents of linguistics and conlangs) into English and other languages.

You won't have to use Google Translate to read these contents.

The pages translated manually each have the "manual" mark(s) as below.

These translations would have much more correct interpretation and grammar than those by Google Translate.

manual

==> I would be grateful if you would use Google Translate (machine translation service) embeded in the top of each page, as needed, to read the other contents.

I'm sorry but this site has so many contents that I cannot translate all of them manually.

Notes about e-mail

==> You can use either of the following address to send me e-mails.

Official e-mail : office@iwasakijunichi.net (academic fields, job offers)

Private e-mail : iwasaki-j@iwasakijunichi.net (questions, personal talks)

- More information for your convenience

 - About private e-mails
 - Mail form

==> I'm a language (linguistics) enthusiast (geek) and a conlang creator, so please don't hesitate to send me e-mails in various languages.

==> If you send me e-mails in one of the following languages, I will send you replies in the same language as you've used.

French

Spanish

Portuguese

Japanese : native

Korean

==> If you send me e-mails in one of the following languages which I can only read and cannot write well yet, I will send you replies in English or another one I can write.
